

New Group Formed For Reunifying Democrats

ROMULUS — With the Romulus Township Democratic Club being a virtually defunct organization, a group of interested people have decided to try to re-establish that political base within the boundary of Romulus.

On May 28, more than thirty people gathered at the L&L Hall, located at 11114 Sterling St., for the formation of a "new and re-vitalized Democratic Club of the City of Romulus."

"It is with the basic thought in mind that the people of this community, the newcomers and the long time residents, should and could get together to be able to speak out as one voice on issues and candidates that will directly and/or indirectly effect the community in which we live.

"It is also with the basic thought in mind that the various factions which have arisen in the past can once again sit down together and work in the best interests of Romulus," stated the club's Acting President.

It has been almost four years since severe and deep splits have ensued within the Democratic party lines in Romulus, with everyone apparently going their own way. It is to the advantage of everyone concerned, Republican, Independent and Democrat, that in any governmental administration there must always be a check and balance system established.

A check and balance system will insure the people of any community a voice, a common vocal chord, to speak out for or against any item or action that any administration will take.

"This has not been done in the past, and at the present time Romulus has basically only a one party system. This cannot last long, as had been seen in previous administrations, because if a one party system remains intact then the governmental instrument will eventually turn into an administration that will have no check on its activities," officials added.

The aims of this group will be to inform the members, and the people of Romulus, of what is occurring in the local administration, and in the presenting of all sides of issues that will effect their community. It shall further reach out to the new subdivision people that have recently moved into Romulus within the last three years and have them take a more active part in their community affairs through the efforts of voter registration, membership attendance and in the voicing of their opinions and thoughts.

The group has established the main thought of not only being a vocal entity within the community, but also being a physical entity as well.

In this sense of a physical entity, candidates shall be endorsed and supported to the best of the group's ability and desire.

"We shall have the support of the precinct delegates behind us in speaking out on the county and state level. We shall bring in all candidates from the various sides to be heard and questioned on their viewpoints and ideas. This Democratic group shall give to the people of Romulus, and to the outlying area, that voice and that support that the people need and should have," organizing officials stated.

At its first meeting, the group nominated and voted into office a steering committee of three to oversee the group's activity until permanent By-Laws are written, and permanent officers are elected.

IN THE RACE — State Senator William Faust (D-13th District) will seek re-election to the post he has held for the past four years. Faust said in announcing his candidacy that the problems of education and tax reform would be his greatest concern during the campaign the next four years. For further details see Page 1-B of today's issue.

Bradshaw Will Head Associated Newspapers

Robert J. Bradshaw, 38, of Ypsilanti has been named general manager of the Panax Corporation's Associated Newspapers group in the suburban Detroit area.

The appointment becomes effective today, according to Eldon C. Gensheimer, general manager of Panax operations in southern Michigan.

As general manager of the Associated Newspapers, Bradshaw will be responsible for the day to day operations of a group of nine weekly newspapers with a total circulation of more than 70,000. Local editions of the Associated Newspapers

ROBERT J. BRADSHAW

Romulus Seeking Official Seal; Contest Is Extended

ROMULUS — The City of Romulus, a month old June 7, is seeking an official City Seal.

City Council — approved contest, initiated in Romulus Community School District with the assistance of the Board of Education, was extended at last Thursday's council meeting to a community-wide participation.

Councilman Fred Junior Block has been placed in charge of the contest of his colleagues at the city council's initial meeting May 26.

He was instructed then to contact school officials on student participation designs for the official seal.

Any student from Romulus schools can submit entries from now until June 30.

A $25 savings bond will be presented to the winning student. Consolation prizes will also be awarded.

Minimum requirements for the city seal, as suggested by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael are: designs displaying either an airplane, factory, railroad and home, or a combination of all of them.

Judging on student designs will be on July 7 school board meeting.

Councilman Block reported at the June 2 council session that the contest has resulted in a lot of enthusiasm.

Sign Ordinance Nears Approval

ROMULUS — An ordinance providing for rules and regulations for the display and removal of electioneering signs will be up for city council's action tomorrow.

City Attorney John E. Young was instructed to draft such an ordinance at the June 2 council session.

A motion made by Councilman Ellis T. Pennington to approve the ordinance last week was withdrawn pending actual presentation by the City attorney.

Council members had approved an earlier action requiring persons seeking elective office in the city be required to post a $50 cash bond at time of filing their nominating petitions.

The $50 cash bond would assure the removal of political signs within 10 days after the election.

Upon failure to do so, the DPW would do the job and charge expenses against the bond.

The ordinance would also prohibit the posting of such literature on public property and right of way.

Property owners who wish to display such signs on their own private property would not be affected by the new ordinance, it was stated.

Deteriorated Homes Facing Demolition

ROMULUS — Romulus has initiated a demolition program to rid the city of badly deteriorated and vacant dwellings.

City council last Thursday ordered City Building Department Manager Joseph B. Gallagher to notify owners of these "dangerous structures" to take steps within 30 days to demolish the dwellings.

Upon failure to do so, the city will order the demolition and assessed costs against the property owner.

These costs would be assessed as a tax lien if the property owner fails to make payment to the city within a 60-day period after demolition.

Action on demolition bids submitted by demolition contractors to the township board prior to the May 7 election had been held up pending take over of city government by the newly elected city council.

At last Thursday's council meeting councilmen approved the taking of new demolition bids.

Gallagher reported that currently there are in Romulus more than 20 dwellings that are 50 to 60 percent deteriorated and in some instance beyond repair.

Most of the structures are in the Urban Renewal area, he stated.

In School Race

Christensen, Budd Win

ROMULUS — The three-man Romulus School Board race saw a first time candidate turn out an incumbent trustee.

Elected were Ronald Christensen of 35921 Northline Rd., Romulus, and Gerald Budd, of 12103 Schultz, Romulus, who presently is an incumbent.

Losing in his bid for re-election was Garold Hoffer of 34841 Lynn Drive, Romulus.

Christensen led the candidate with 248 votes followed by Budd with 210 and Hoffer with 156.

The race was tight across the city, as Christensen led in seven precincts, and second and third in the remaining four. Budd garnered the most votes in the other four precincts.

Robert L. McConeghy, Romulus Superintendent, said that 356 voters out of a total registered voter population of more than 7,000 went to the polls.

McConeghy described the voter turnout as "extremely light." He credited the low turnout to the fact that there were no financial issues on the ballot.

Christensen, 32, has lived in the Township all his life. He is an electrical construction electrician and a member of Local 58 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

He and his wife Mary Ann are the parents of three children.

Budd, 41, will now begin his second term on the Board of Education, having been first elected in June 1966.

He is a guidance counselor for the Taylor School System. He is president-elect of the Romulus Rotary Club.

Council Appoints Firm

ROMULUS — Wade, Trim & Associates, Inc., of 25185 Goddard Rd., currently city engineers for Romulus, have been appointed Acting Street Administrator by City Council last Thursday night.

The appointment, not to exceed six months, was made on recommendation of Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael. It is expected that a permanent Street Administrator will be appointed by then.

Mayor Carmichael in his report to city council announced that he had made a trip to Lansing regarding revenue to be received from the state for maintenance of the streets of Romulus.

He stated that the final decision will be made pursuant to a meeting between the city and Wayne County. At this meeting streets to be retained by the county and streets to be taken over by the city will be finalized.

At the June 2 council session, Councilman William M. Oakley moved to approve the engineering firm as temporary Streets Administrator and to start immediately to set up a Highway Department in Romulus. He was supported by councilman Brooker R. Edwards.

RE-ELECTED — Mrs. Carl K. Rush (right), of Romulus, was seated at the speaker's table with Mrs. William R. Keast, of Detroit, wife of the president of Wayne State University, for the annual meeting of Women for the United Foundation (WUF). Both were re-elected WUF vice presidents at the luncheon in Detroit's Latin Quarter. Featured were a zodiac theme and fashions from Saks Fifth Avenue.

Muskie For President Committee Is Set Up

By Romulus Student

ROMULUS — Barry Baumann, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baumann of 9440 Ozga Rd., has begun an organization at his college, St. Mary's Orchard Lake, to have Senator Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, seek the 1972 Democratic Presidential Nomination.

The group calls itself the "Students and Citizens for Muskie 1972", and is being based at the college.

Barry will serve as the committees' Executive Chairman, with Richard Lewandowski, from Worcester, Massachusetts, John Little, from Altoona, Pennsylvania; Walter Rackoczy from East Chicago, Indiana, serving as Executive Committeemen.

"Senator Muskie is well aware of what we are doing. In a letter to me, Muskie stated that he welcomed our actions and appreciated whatever we will do in his favor. I have also been in contact with his office, and we will be informed as to the activities of the senator until he announces his candidacy," Barry states, and adds.

"There are many other student groups now popping up in the country. One is the ASM from Colorado, which we are working with. That organization has around 26 colleges and universities already in its membership.

ASM is the Associated Students for Muskie. It is headed by Peter Babcock, from Vermont. At present, we are larger in membership than he."

The main objective of the Baumann organization is to seek signatures on petitions to request Senator Muskie seek the '72 nomination. "As to date, we have close to 400 signatures, this within a five-week period since we began, most of which comes from Massachusetts and some from Connecticut. We will be concentrating on students in the fall," Baumann reports.

Barry, who will be a junior next year at college, plans to meet with Senator Muskie again this summer in Washington.

Last November, Barry met Muskie when he came to Detroit for a Testimonial Dinner in his behalf, given by the Orchard Lake Schools when Muskie was awarded the Fidelitas Medal.

The organization has bumper stickers and other information upon request. Barry will set up summer offices at his home at 9440 Ozga, Romulus.

Other information can be obtained by calling 941-2195.

To The Editor:

The Belleville Enterprise in its May 20th. edition elected to print a story concerning a Mr. James O'Neil's (Treasurer of the State Board of Education) speech to a Battle Creek organization regarding the motion picture "Midnight Cowboy". It is quite apparent why Mr. O'Neil chose this particular attraction as had he selected one of the many family type pictures as his subject and as a result not being able to breathe fire and brimstone and make reference to a "sick movie made by a sick industry" etc., his speech would have been about as interesting as a story by the Enterprise based on all of the traffic casualties that did not happen over the Memorial Day week end.

No doubt Mr. O'Neil has not heard of the venture of two priests who recently, at great expense, opened Detroit's Music Hall theatre with a policy of strictly "family films at family admission prices." His active support of this project will be appreciated.

It is also hoped that all of those good people who bleat "we can't take our kids to the movies anymore", tell their 14 year old daughter to stay home, and then stand in a theatre line for one hour to see a "Midnight Cowboy" will put their money where their mouths are in support of this project. Please hurry as the priests are going broke waiting for you.

For those who believe a policy of clean movies at the lowest possible admission prices is a great idea and who risk life and limb in Northville, Ypsilanti and elsewhere but will use the hackneyed excuse of crime in Detroit as a deterrent to attending; their donation checks will be accepted.

The operation of Music Hall is strictly a non-profit charity project. Checks can be made out to Family Films, Inc. and forwarded to Music Hall Theatre, 350 Madison Avenue, Detroit, Michigan. 48226

To The Editor:

In answer to the letter from the Current Huron High School Student:

The people of this country have the right to express their opinion, but they don't have the right to slander.

What is wrong with the traditional three R's?

We as experienced parents know what our children should be taught in school. Our children don't tell us what to do since we go out to earn the living and pay for them to go to school.

It's about time the parents started taking over their households again, and putting the children back where they belong.

We parents have been down the rebellious roads as teenagers, now looking back and thanking our parents for taking the time to teach us the right way to go.

The constitution guarantees us the right to choose a religion and build pride through culture and heritage. Let's take advantage of this freedom and give our children these gifts.

There may be a state law that Christianity cannot be taught in our schools, but do our laws restrict the teaching of atheistic theories as well? No!

I will agree that Christianity is dangerous to our young people. It builds character, teaches good moral values, and gives our children faith in something besides themselves. Self-confidence is good, but there are times when a super strength is necessary. Have you ever been in a fox hole alone under fire? Have you ever looked death in the face and know domination of our churches. you are alone?

Many of us have learned through our history classes at school that our country was founded on religious beliefs and freedom from state

Those that were elected are Charles R. Kline, 30282 Cherry Ave., Acting president; Mrs. Frances Murphy, 30295 Cherry Hill, acting secretary, and Mrs. Eleanor Moore, or 3048 Northline Rd., acting treasurer.

Under the leadership of this group, meetings have been established every two weeks with the next meeting scheduled tomorrow at the L&L Hall.

Further, Kline has declared that the By-Laws Committee will be nominated and elected at the next meeting so that progressive progress can be carried forward.

It is the intent of those concerned that all people from all factions, and from all areas, come, listen, ask questions, get involved and be concerned.

As Kline states it is the hope and desire of all that no one be by-passed or ignored.

"We must have unity, and in that lies strength. For two people to disagree is one thing, but somewhere between the rod lies an area where agreement can be had and worked for by all," said Kline.

All of Romulus is invited to sit in question, and partake in the affairs of their organization, their community, their way of live.

Councilman James C. Stewart suggested that the contest be not limited to student participation but open to the public. Council agreed.

The winning student design and others that may be submitted will be studied by council before final determination is made.

A two party system is the basic foundation of this country, and it was built with this premise. We must all stand together to unit, to act and be heard as one rather than being disunited and acting as individuals.

Your support, your concern, and your involvement are the basic issues with any political organization and this is what this group shall endeavor to seek, and gain," Kline added.

Come to the next meeting of the L&L Hall, Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

"We were once a strong rise again to be heard as a united vocal chord for the future," was the case of the club's organizers.

Computer Helps Huron High Scheduling

NEW BOSTON — The Huron Board of Education learned June 1 that not only will there be changes in curriculum at the High School next fall, but there is a change in approach to class scheduling.

Dr. Charles Kromer, co-ordinator of computer scheduling, detailed for the Board how class scheduling has been computerized.

Kromer said that all students in the ninth through twelfth grades selected courses for their six-period day from a list of approximately 120 possible class offerings. The students, Kromer added, had to "keep their selections within the framework of graduation requirements."

All these selections were then tallied by the Westinghouse Co. The School District then received a breakdown of each course, stating how many signed up, how many were boys, how many were girls, and what grade level the students were on.

Dr. Kromer said that from this tally, "the administration determined what courses to offer and eliminated those courses in which not sufficient interest was generated."

As a result of the computer tally, the following new electives will be added this fall: Spanish, General Industrial Studies, General Metals, Power Mechanics, Choir and Broadcasting. Study halls will also be re-introduced.

The following electives have been dropped due to a lack of sufficient interest: Advanced Bookkeeping, Advanced French, Beginning Russian, Modern World Literature, World Culture, British Empire and European History. Kromer noted that none of the courses being dropped are required for graduation.

Kromer said that computer scheduling enables a school district to come up with a schedule that not only works, but one that is good for the students.

In the past, it would take an administrator four to six weeks to come up with a schedule of classes that would work and perhaps fit the needs of all the high school students.

The computer can do a complete schedule within minutes. If the schedule is not satisfactory, the computer can be told to rearrange parts of the schedule, again in a matter of minutes.

In the end, computer scheduling will enable the school district to make the most efficient use of the district's teachers. Dr. Kromer pointed out that more efficient use of teachers will result in savings for the District in the long run.

The Board of Education authorized Kromer to proceed with the curriculum scheduling subject to budget limits. Superintendent Bryon Antcliff indicated that the administration would have more to say on this subject at the June 15th Board meeting.

Our Readers Write

To The Editor:

We, the undersigned taxpayers of Huron Township, are greatly disturbed with the astronomical rise of our taxes. For a small rural community, with trash pickup once a month and only a skeleton police and fire department, we feel we should not be paying almost twice as much taxes as our neighbors in Romulus.

When we complained about our taxes in the township office, the increase was blamed on state equalization. However, as per an article in the Enterprise Roman, dated May 13, a Mr. Morley, director of the Wayne County bureau of taxation, pointed out that when an equalization factor is applied, governmental units have the option of reducing their property tax rate so that the amount paid by each taxpayer would remain the same.

As everyone in Huron Township knows, this fact has certainly been completely over-looked in our case. Our taxes have been escalating steadily year after year. As a matter of fact, rumors have been rampant that our taxes will be increased again this December.

Since our taxes are way out of line, as compared to other communities, we demand to know, Mr. George Angel, (supervisor) why, when the State Equalized Valuation went up, the tax rate, as pointed out by Mr. Morley didn't go down? This is like sneaking in a tax increase without a referendum.

If our State Equalized Valuation is to be increased, we demand that our tax rate be decreased accordingly. Our patience has been exhausted.

Joins Bureau

NEW BOSTON — The Huron School Board voted recently to join the Metropolitan Detroit Bureau of School Studies.

Admission tickets are $1 per adult and 50 cents for children 14 and under.

Following the meal, the group adjourned to the meeting room where they were welcomed into fellowship of Parent-Teacher work by Robert L. McConeghy, Superintendent of Schools. Robert Babel, Principal of Harrison School, installed the new officers, charging them with their responsibilities.

Miss Joyce Baker called the group to order with the playing and singing of the National Anthem. Mrs. Jessie Swanigan offered the invocation by singing the hymn "How Great Thou Art."

Mrs. Dolores Wells, Toastmistress for the evening, directed the group through the serving lines where a steak dinner had been prepared by Mrs. Pearl Bower and her staff. Nearly 200 people filled the tables to enjoy the food and music, provided by the Mind, Body and Soul.

Mr. Wells called for those wishing to present awards, beginning with the Area Council Membership Trophy, awarded each year to the unit with the highest membership, in ratio with their enrollment. Once again the award went to Hayti PTA, who has captured the trophy each year it has been presented. Mrs. DonnaLee Zavitz accepted the trophy, having served as membership chairman.

Past president pins were presented to Mrs. Nan Meyer and Mr. Bob Knight. Mrs. Fran Petre was given an engraved plaque of appreciation from her unit. It was presented by Cory principal James Madigan, who expressed the affection and appreciation of the membership.

Local unit representatives presented awards and gave acknowledgement to those how had made outstanding contributions to the years projects.

Mrs. Wells then introduced the first of a group of vocalists and musicians who were to provide entertainment and inspiration to the audience. Mike, Nannette and Ronald Wynn performed two inspirational vocal pieces. Joyce Baker played "Alfie" and "Somewhere" she accompanied Larry Cline, vocalist, in a stirring performance of "exodus."

Miss Corky Wisniewski expertly played two accordian selections and was followed by Miss Paula Cucchiara, accompanied by Miss Ape! April Forintos. They presented "Concerto for Clarinet" and "Funeral March of a Marionette."

The last group to perform were the Smith Sisters whose professional delivery left the audience wanting to hear more. Mrs. Wells summoned the performers to receive a

Reading Technique Change Proposed

NEW BOSTON — Mrs. Pat Wiseley, Chairman of the Transition Studies Committee of the Curriculum Council, made a short presentation to the Huron Board on how to best help children over the transition from kindergarten to first grade.

Mrs. Wiseley told the Huron Board of Education "flexible non-traditional" classes would be needed.

Mrs. Wiseley said that all the District's kindergarten and first grade teachers sat on the committee.

The Board heard Mrs. Wiseley's presentation, but action awaits further discussion between the curriculum council, the administration and the board.

June 1 that some children are not ready to go into first grade, and need special help. Instead of formal reading, special techniques are used.

In all other areas, these children would be doing the same first grade work as the rest of the children. Mrs. Wiseley said that approximately three of these

Glass Collection Site Announced

ROMULUS — For the past couple of months students in the Romulus schools have been working, as have students all over the country, trying to improve their environment. They have been faced with a problem of what to do with much of the litter that they have collected. Some of it has been sent back to the manufacturer at the expense of the collector.

Now the opportunity to clean-up applies in a new direction. The Owens-Illinois Glass Company of Toledo, Ohio, working with the ENACT Ecology Center at the University of Michigan, has agreed to pay 1 ct. per pound for used glass if it is brought to Arborland Shopping Center, off Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor. Dates for collection are June 16 and 17 from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The glass must be sorted according to colors, (clear, green and other colors) and should be clean. The glass may be broken, but no tops or metals objects should be included.

According to ENACT, if the project is a success, it is hoped that a permanent glass recycling center will be established. For further information, call the Ecology Center, 313-761-3186.

Sullens-Waddell Wed

Florida Is Honeymoon Destination For Couple

A week-long honeymoon at the Castaways in Miami Beach followed the May 15 marriage of Sieanna Waddell and Arthur Sullens.

St. Anthony's Catholic Church was the setting for the double ring ceremony read by Father Raymond Skoney at six in the evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pinette of 46026 Traskos, Belleville, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sullens of 20025 Sumpter Road, Belleville.

SIEANNA WORE for her wedding day a gown made by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Michael Waddell. The floor-length creation was designed with a low square neckline and chiffon sleeves in the Juliet mode with orange bands dividing the puffs. The orange motif was also used to trace the high-rise waistline.

Cascading to floor length, her five tiered illusion veil was bordered in cotton lace.

White and orange roses, lilies of the valley and tendrils of ivy comprised her bridal bouquet.

Preceding the bride and her step-father to the sanctuary were Mona Lisa Waddell, the bride's younger sister, who served as honor attendant; Virginia Pokrywki of Belleville; Debbie Belanger of Ypsilanti; and Susan Corte of Westland and Pat Ivan of Belleville, both cousins of the bride.

Identically dressed, their apricot frocks were in formal length with short, puffed sleeves and bodices featuring cream-colored bibs edged in cotton lace.

Their small bamboo pillbox hats were encircled with apricot veils and they carried bouquets of orange-tipped carnations, yellow daisies and pom-poms.

Three-year old Oriss A. Waddell was the petite flowergirl in an apricot A-line dress with long, lace-trimmed sleeves.

Bruce Sullens, the bridegroom's seven-year old brother, carried out the role of ringbearer.

BEST MAN was David Rochon of Belleville. Others on the esquire side were Rick Sullens of Longview, Texas, Dennis Sullens, and Douglas Sullens, all brothers of the bridegroom; and Gary Francis, of Belleville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pinette donned a pink dress with a matching empire coat. An aqua dress with companion lace coat was the choice of Mrs. Sullens. Both mothers were presented with orchids tied in ribbon to match their ensembles.

Some 250 guests gathered at the P.N.A. Lodge for the reception which followed.

Since returning from their wedding trip, the newlyweds have made their home at 9486 Willis Road, Willis.

Both young people graduated from Belleville High School in 1968. The new Mrs. Sullens is currently employed at the U.S. Post Office at Metro Airport and her husband works in the engineering department of the Ford Motor Company, Dearborn. After graduating from Belleville High, he attended Washtenaw Community College.

Marilyn Masson Marries

Newly Wed Hollands Travel To Canada

The Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, Belleville, was the setting for the May 22 wedding of Marilyn Anne Masson of Romulus and Richard Allen Holland of New Boston. The seven o'clock ceremony united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Masson of 31831 Pennsylvania, Romulus, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Holland of 34240 Sibley, New Boston.

Mr. Donald White presided at the double ring service before 200 assembled guests, the church being adorned with white gladioli, chrysanthemums, and baby's breath.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, Marilyn appeared in a full-length gown of white peau de soie with a white lace over blouse jacket. The sculptured bodice was fashioned with a scooped neckline and long, full sheer sleeves accented with pink ribbon at the cuffs.

Her fingertip veil was secured by white organza roses, lace petals and pearl trim and her bouquet was comprised of pink and white roses, baby's breath and ivy.

Shirley Stormont traveled from Spokane, Washington to serve as honor maid. Kathy Holland, the bridegroom's sister, was the only bridesmaid.

The two attendants wore frocks of sheer pink dotted Swiss polyester over taffeta styled with long sleeves trimmed in white lace and pink velvet ribbon.

Their white garden hats were decorated with pink roses and trimmed in velvet ribbon. Completing their ensembles were bouquets of white daisies, carnations, pink roses, and baby's breath.

Seven-year old Natalia Dudynsky, daughter of Mrs. Anne Dudynsky of Madison Heights, and five-year old Kathleen O'Connor, daughter of the William O'Connors of Detroit, performed as flowergirls.

Their little frocks were miniature versions of the senior attendants' and in their hair they wore roses and pink velvet ribbon.

THOMAS HOLLAND of New Boston was his brother's best man and the bride's brother, Clarence Masson, Jr. Ypsilanti was the only usher.

At the reception which followed at the U.A.W. Hall, Flat Rock, Mrs. Masson greeted the 200 guests in a light blue Chanel suit while carrying her corsage of pink roses and carnations. Mrs. Holland chose for her son's wedding a beige dress with harmonizing accessories. She was presented with a similar corsage.

After an eight-day honeymoon in Toronto and Niagara Falls, the newlyweds took up residence at 34260 Sibley, New Boston.

The new Mrs. Holland earned her bachelor of music degree at the University of Michigan's School of Music. Her husband graduated from Eastern Michigan University with a B.B.E. degree and is now production manager of AAA Fabricated Products, Inc.

Stan Gondek, Val Pullen Speak Nuptial Vows

St. Stephen's Catholic Church, New Boston, was reserved for the May 16 wedding of Valerie Faye Pullen and Stanley Michael Gondek.

The five o'clock ceremony was read by Father Alexander Wytrowski before an altar appointed with lighted candles and bouquets of white pomp mums and gladioli.

The double ring nuptials united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Pullen of 14285 Elwell Road, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gondek of 15305 Huron River Drive, Romulus.

ESCORTED UP the white carpeted aisle by her father, Val appeared in a classic gown of white delustered satin made by her mother. The empire bodice was designed with a high neckline banded in lace with beige chiffon ribbon and little rose appliques for accents. The same trim was used to border the train which cascaded to chapel length from a semi-overskirt attached at the waistline. The lace motif was repeated on the hemline and again on the slit musketeer sleeves.

Her bouffant veil of silk illusion drifted to mid-back length from a satin pillbox encircled with matching lace. Completing her bridal finery was an arrangement of white phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

The bride's best friend, Kaye Wallace of Belleville, was chosen to be maid of honor. Her A-line gown of pale green chiffon over taffeta featured a round neckline accented with white lace and long angel sleeves cuffed in matching lace. Her lace-trimmed pillbox secured a short pouf veil and she carried a nosegay of carnations tipped to match her dress with a center of pink baby roses.

Wearing similar ensembles were the bride's sister, Sandra Pullen in pink; the bride's cousin, Victoria Bradley of Inkster in yellow; and Sherrie Riggle of Ann Arbor in blue.

Dressed in lavender for her role as flowergirl was the bridegroom's four-year old niece, Lisa Zatyko, daughter of the Paul Zatykos of Westland.

Eight-year old Douglas Wymer, son of the Gale Wymers of West Branch, served as ringbearer at his uncle's wedding.

Tom Gondek of Romulus served as best man for his brother. The corps of ushers included Jim Gondek of Melvindale and Jack Pullen of Belleville, brothers of the bride couple; Brad Mayhew, the bride's cousin from Golden, Colorado; and Pat Marshall of Belleville.

At the reception which followed at the Romulus V.F.W., Mrs. Pullen greeted the 250 guests in an aqua jacket dress trimmed with silver braid. An open pillbox and shoes in matching aqua completed her ensemble. The bridegroom's mother donned a white dress striped in red and navy with white accessories. Both mothers added white gardenias to their frocks.

Val, who graduated from Belleville High School and Virginia Farrell Beauty School is currently employed at Madelyn's Beauty Shop, Belleville.

Stan graduated from Our Lady of Lourdes High School in River Rouge, served with the U.S. Air Force, and is now working in the computer center of the Ford Motor Company, Dearborn.

A Gas incinerator eliminates a lot more than trash.

It eliminates any kind of combustible trash and garbage. Even things like corn cobs, cloth and bones—things you wouldn't dare drop into a garbage disposal.

It eliminates odor. Smoke. Noise. It eliminates slogging through rain and mud. Nothing else gets rid of so many different kinds of rubbish. Or so many different kinds of problems. No more risking back trouble lugging rubbish. No more pollution from burning trash outdoors. No more arguments about who carries out the trash. In fact, no more trash problems.

See your appliance dealer or contact Michigan Consolidated Gas Company about installing a Gas incinerator in your home. Then watch your rubbish problems disappear.

MR. and MRS. DAVID E. BECK

Beck - Pennington Vows Solemnized

Now making their home on Chase Rd. in Romulus are Mr. and Mrs. David Earl Beck, who were married May 1 at a ceremony held at St. Damian's Catholic Church, Livonia.

The former Bonita Louise Pennington is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Pennington of August St., Westland, and her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland E. Beck of Farmington.

Fr. Pilarowski of St. Damian's witnessed the exchange of vows and rings in the presence of 150 wedding guests.

FOR THE wedding, the bride designed and made a gown styled along modified ante-bellum lines in white satin and lace. The fitted bodice of satin was overlaid with the same lace that formed the tiered skirt worn over a hoop. A miniature rhinestone tiara held the bride's long, illusion veil and she carried small white orchids on a white family Bible.

Mrs. Deanna Jean Robinson served as matron of honor for her sister, wearing an empire gown in turquoise satin with a matching veiled headpiece. Her flowers were blue-tinted carnations and white daisies.

The same style gown was carried out in mint green satin for bridesmaid Deb Horton; in yellow for Cindy Robinson, niece of the bride; in peach satin for Miss Judy Beck, sister of the bridegroom, and in pink for Suzanne Robinson, niece of the bride. Each bridesmaid carried a bouquet of carnations matching her gown, and white daisies.

The rings were carried on a white satin pillow by Mark Nowicki, cousin of the bride and son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Nowicki of Detroit.

FOR THE wedding, the bridegroom asked Gene Fauer of Livonia to serve as best man. Groomsman was John H. Pennington, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pennington chose a long sheath gown in avocado lace with matching accessories, while Mrs. Beck chose a short frock in off-white lace with matching accessories.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Pruss-Szelong VFW Post Hall in Detroit.

The former Miss Pennington is a 1969 graduate of Franklin High School, Livonia, and is in her sophomore year at Schoolcraft College. Her bridegroom is a 1966 graduate of Farmington High School and attended Oakland Community College. Both are employed at the Wayco Graphics division of Associated Newspapers, Wayne.

BEAUTIFYING BELLEVILLE — On your next trip to town, glance around for the new additions to the city — gaily-decorated litter cans — which are now adding a bit of color to our area. Instigated by the Junior Study Club of Belleville's Conservation Department, the idea for city beautification was carried out with the cooperation of the Belleville High School art department and Mrs. Eugene Congdon's junior and senior classes. Pictured with their completed works of art (left to right) are Sue Smallish, Kathy Clift, Mrs. Congdon, and Becky Lynch.

Junior Study Club Works On City Beautification

There are now six new trash containers gracing the sidewalks of Belleville, compliments of the Junior Study Club. In conjunction with the anti-pollution and beautification of Belleville program, the club's Conservation Department undertook the task of providing the city with the containers.

co-worker Betty Kreie received the containers as a donation from the Rheem Company, Romulus, and then purchased lids and liners to fit.

Then the fun part of the project began when Mrs. Eloise Congdon's art classes at Belleville High took on the job of decorating the barrels.

Smith, Cheryl Ritter, Jackie Fensch, Laurie King, Jackie Halliday, Jerry Say, and John Thomas.

The Junior Study Club wishes to thank Mrs. Congdon and her students for their efforts and for their interests in keeping Belleville a pleasant place in which to live.

Using their own imagination in designing and painting the cans were Joyce Bricks, Kathy Clift, Bonnie Fuller, Lynn Grzesk Dawn Istvan, Debbie Johnson, and Becky Lynch. Also Susan Smallish, Rita

They also thank Erv Barrett for transporting the containers from the Rheem Company to the high school; Don Raymond for his help in finding contacts; and Mayor Royce Smith for his co-operation.

Local Jaycee Auxiliary
Lists Six-Month Activity

BELLEVILLE — The Belleville Jaycee Auxiliary would like to let the community know just what we have achieved since last November 1969 thru June 1970.

Our officers during that period of time were as follows; President, Helen Horton; Vice President, Diana Villa; Secretary, Janice Storemski; Treasurer, Valerie McLeod; Director, Pat Horton. Everyone of these girls did a wonderful job.

Our first project was to assist the Belleville Jaycees on their Santa Parade. First we assisted the Jaycees in bagging candy that Santa was to give to all the children. Next we dressed three Jaycees as clowns for the parade and to pass out balloons to all the children.

Our second project was also a Jaycee assist. We assisted our Jaycees in a Valentine Dance. It was held at the Belleville High School and everyone was invited. Our guest celebrity that night was Jerry Mitchell a disc-jockey from CKLW. He talked to all the kids and gave away albums as door prizes.

Our third assist was the "Millionaires Party." Our Jaycees have this party twice a year. Everyone seems to enjoy themselves, gambling drinking and dancing to a live band. Our part in assisting our Jaycees is to run the kitchen. In the past we've served sloppy joes, ham sandwiches, pizza, hot dogs, pretzels, potato chips and coffee. We also assisted the Jaycees in helping relieve some of the Jaycees running the gambling tables.

Our fourth assist to the Jaycees was a newsletter we help them put out once every two months to all the Jaycees and also the exhausted Roosters (Past members) The newsletter is also sent to all the Jaycee locals in our district. This newsletter is written to let everyone know what the Jaycees have done in the last two months. It has reports of all kinds, letters from chairmen — just everything about the Jaycees!

The auxiliary has had money making projects.

The first one was we made a vest for each one of the Jaycees.

We also made the auxiliary vests that are identical except they have "Belleville Jaycees" written on the back.

Our second project was the Little League Football Concession Stand. We have this stand at the high school for each home game the Cougars have.

Our third project was a Rummage, Book and Bake sale.

The auxiliary has had three community service projects. The first is "Patch the Pony." I'm sure everyone has heard of Patch, from the children in school, if not here's a short description. Patch is a pony in a film strip that teaches children (in a real simple way) not to get into cars with strangers. It is a real good film that we have shown to all the schools in the area.

The second community service was the Little League Football Banquet we held for the Cougars and their coaches and assistant coaches.

At this project we had a buffet dinner and presented trophies to the head coaches and their assistants.

Our auxiliary also had three Cougar Homecoming Queens. We had one chosen from each cheerleading squad. One from varsity, one from junior varsity and one from freshman.

We presented each of these queens with a crown and cape and they reigned the rest of the day!

This is what we the Belleville Jaycee Auxiliary have accomplished in the last six months.

Our new officers for this next year are as follows: President, Valerie McLeod; vice president, Diana Villa; secretary, Janet Smith; treasurer, Linda Roberts; and Director Pat Horton.

Romulus Youngsters Show Artistic Talents

ROMULUS — The Elementary Art Department of the Romulus Community Schools presented an outstanding display of talent and creativity last Saturday, at Cory School.

From the parking lot to the back exit of the Multi Purpose Room art work was displayed. Walls were hung with mounted examples of a variety of applications of color, materials and dimensions. Pinatas of crepe paper hung from the ceiling; near life sized animals, brightly colored and decorative, stood in the halls.

There were examples of copper enameling from the Gordonier youngsters, weavings from Hayti, sponge prints and collages from Mt. Pleasant, melted crayon designs and tissue collages from Beverly, a woodcut collage, sculptured animals and water colors from Cory, jewelry and weavings from Harrison and aluminum toolings from Romulus Elementary, and much more.

An "Experience" concerning pollution had been prepared in a class room. Viewers waded through a collection of trash and rubble to a seat. A busy group of youngsters dimmed the lights, started three record players and a projector to create an audio, visual tactile impression of "Pollution."

District elementary art teachers were present to greet the steady flow of viewers who began to arrive when the doors opened at 10 a.m. Coffee and refreshments were donated and served by Cory, Hayti, Romulus Elementary and Mt. Pleasant PTA groups.

Mrs. Cheryl Huff, Mrs. Karen Woodley, Mrs. Linda Paret and Mark Anderson were justifiably proud of the progress of their students. Special thanks were given to Charles Murray, Brett Kline, Cindy Moore, Ken Sims, Anthony Marsalese, Greg Goldston, Don Wejciewski, John Petre, Dennis Whitman and Jerry Staffeld who assisted with projectors, record players, and acted as hosts and guides on the day of the show.

SLIM GYM

"SORRY - SOLD OUT"

Dear Customer who wishes to look better and feel better — we at Slim Gym are so sorry that we are running 2-3-4 weeks behind on delivery of your Slim Gym but wanted to take this method to congratulate you for your choice and your willingness to wait a little while to get the best.

We'd like to say we're sorry — but how can anyone say they are sorry because they are sold out?

How can any business say they're sorry because people prefer their product to any other?

How can any business say they are sorry that they're No. 1?

If you just can't wait for the best, then you'll just have to buy No. 2.

TRUE, it doesn't have the quality.

TRUE, they don't give the service.

TRUE it cost more money.

TRUE it isn't as effective.

But then some would rather take second best now than wait for the best.

GEE IT'S GREAT TO BE NO. 1!!! It makes life so full of fun.

For after all, what fun is it to be No. 1 if there is no No. 2.

Huron Accepts $15,000 Grant

NEW BOSTON — A community school program took a large step forward June 1 as the Huron Board of Education voted to accept funds and to begin advertising for a community-school director.

Superintendent Bryon Antcliff said that the District will be receiving a $5,000 grant from Eastern Michigan University and a $10,000 grant from the State of Michigan to fund the community school program.

Building Jumps

ROMULUS — Residential building in Romulus during May amounted to $477,244, Joseph B. Gallagher, manager of the building department announced.

Total building called for in the 100 building permits issued during the month amounted to $1,886,972. This compares with $1,062,112 and 96 building permits issued in April.

The total amount of fees collected on all permits issued by the building department was $11,397 as against $8,042 in April.

Some of the projects approved in May include: Brick and Block Addition by Mole Construction Company, $32,000; Concrete Batch Plant by Clawson Concrete Company, $150,000; Remodel Store by Ted Drake, $3,000.

Masonry addition by Howard Gabbert, $3,000; Metal Storage Shed by Micro Measurements, $4,200; remodel and addition by Wayne County Commission at Delta Air Lines Concourse, $168,578; and Remodel into office by Floyd Rice Leasing Company, $5,000.

Antcliff added that the Huron School District will be running a cooperative program with the Flat Rock School District.

He also pointed out that the community school program would not cost the District anything, since the total program would be paid for by outside funds.

The only restriction on the money is that the District must hire a full-time administrator to run the program. His salary too is paid for from the grant.

The community school program is one in which the local school is made the center of the community. This program in general advocates greater use of the school building, making it available to all citizens for various community activities.

It is the job of the community school director to make maximum use of the facilities taking into consideration the wants of the community.

The Board's action was six-one with Mrs. Mildred Bennett voting against.

One million acres of the new high-yield rice is the goal of Indonesia this year in an effort to increase production needed to stabilize the country's economy.

Officers Elected By Sumpter's PTO

SUMPTER — The Sumpter Elementary School's Parents-Teachers Organization (PTO) was organized last fall.

The three officers elected at that time were: Chairman, Mrs. Mary Innes; Secretary, Mrs. Jackie Harris; and Treasurer, Mrs. Carol Caudill.

All parents participated in activities throughout the school year.

Last Tuesday (June 2.), the last monthly meeting for the current school year was held and officers were elected for the next school year — 1970-71.

Instead of having just three offices, it was increased to seven offices. Those elected were:

'Y' Starting Summer Program

ROMULUS — Beginning next Wednesday (June 17) a 6 weeks summer fun program for Romulus girls, grades through 11, is being offered by the YWCA of Western Wayne County.

Plans include a trip to the airport, bowling and concluding with a picnic and games the last day. A cost of $3 covers membership and craft materials, Miss Allen Grey, Program Director, announced.

Interested persons may register by calling the YWCA, LO 1-4110, or Mrs. Ursery, 728-5045 or reminding those girls who have forms to return them to the YWCA.

Area Students Honored

BELLEVILLE — Seven former 1968 graduates of Belleville High School who are presently members of the Sophomore class of Eastern Michigan University, were among the students honored at the Twenty-Second Annual Honors Convocation held at Eastern Michigan University.

They were: Johanne C. Cash, Michael T. Ives, Thomas Kozma, Shelley Steinman, Joyce Gail Webb, Josephine M. Wojtowicz and Patricia A. Wykes.

There was never any By-Laws set up for PTO, so a By-Law committee was asked to compile all suggestions and prepare them for the September meeting. Those appointed to the committee were: Chairman, Mrs. Gayle Murray; Mrs. Mary Innes and Mrs. Jackie Harris.

When the question of a shrubbery committee came up, Spencer Mack (fifth and sixth grade teacher) said his class would buy and plant the shrubs next fall.

Members voted to have a Halloween Party, Oct. 31 for the children again.

They also voted to change their meetings to the second Tuesday of each month instead of the First Tuesday.

The meeting was adjourned and coffee was served immediately afterward.

Planners Elect New President

BELLEVILLE — Van Buren Township Engineer Morris Levine has been requested by the Van Buren Township Planning Commission for a legal description of two land parcels up for re-zoning.

The legal description is required the commission announced so as to provide data for setting a public hearing.

The two parcels of land are located at the northeast corner of Belleville and Ecorse Rds., to be zoned from M-1 (light industry) to M-2 (heavy industry).

And property 400 feet back from the southwest corner of Ecorse and Belleville Rds., to be zoned from R-1 (single family residential) to M-2 classification.

Planning Commission Chairman Irving G. Wallace reported that the zoning changes are in accordance with the master plan.

Pupils Defeat Staff

BELLEVILLE — "It was a gloomy day in Mudville, Mighty Casey had struck out".

This is how the Denton Duds, alias the Denton Staff (Denton Elementary School) felt as they dropped a 6-5 decision to the Denton Mustangs (students).

The game was nothing for nothing for two innings but in the third the Mustangs exploded for three runs.

The "Duds" got one in the third making it 3 to 1.

After a scoreless fifth inning, the Mustangs opened the sixth with two runs. The Duds then tied it in the bottom of the sixth with a four run rally.

But alas, the Mustangs scored the winning run in the top of the seventh, and then proceeded to put the Duds down in 1-2-3 order.

All-Area Tennis Team Makes Debut

The 1970 high school tennis circuit produced its usual talent of outstanding players. But the play of 10 stood out above the rest.

These ten, picked by area coaches, were named to the Associated Newspapers All-Area High School Tennis Team. They are Bob Miller (John Glenn), Andy Kozarian (Romulus), Gary Nustad (Garden City West), Terry Sutton (Garden City East), Rod Shafer (Garden City East), Curt Peterson (Cherry Hill), Randy Deutschendorf (Cherry Hill), Rick Brooker (Wayne Memorial) and Iain MacDonald (Livonia Franklin). All ten players were instrumental in helping their teams to a winning season.

Cherry Hill's duo of Peterson and Deutschendorf was undefeated in the Tri-River Conference where the Spartans finished second to newly-crowned champ, Dearborn Heights Riverside.

Cherry Hill's record in the league was 8-2 and coach Mike Hairabedian's team compiled a 12-2 over-all mark, their second best record in the 12-year-history of the Inkster high school.

Deutschendorf, the Cherry Hill team captain, reached the semi-finals at the regionals and posted a 12-0 season and a 10-0 league record. A senior with three years varsity experience, Randy was also the Tri-River singles' champ.

Peterson, who played No. 2 singles throughout the season, is one of three juniors selected to the mythical team. As a sophomore he reached the quarter-final round at the regionals and this year, in the doubles, he was ousted at the regionals in the semis.

The other two juniors are Nustad and Iain MacDonald.

Nustad's name is a familiar one to these sports pages. The flashy West guard last season used his deceptive passes to help the Tigers win their second Tri-River Conference basketball title, a district and regional championship as well as to reach the State Class A semi-finals.

all-out to win. As a sophomore his record was 14-5 and as a junior he won 10 of his 15 matches, earning league honors as well.

MacDonald, the only other junior, is also the lone representative from Livonia to claim an All-Area berth.

A very talented and aggressive player, Iain chalked up a 10-4 over-all record as the Patriots' No. 1 singles. With Iain returning to coach William Lively's lineup next season, you can bet the Patriots have a potential league champ among their midst.

East's swinging duo, Sutton and Shafer were also picked on the All-Mid-Wayne Conference team this season. Both also had qualified to compete in the State Class A finals, held at Kalamazoo, Mich. over the past weekend.

Sutton, the team's captain, was a finalist at the regionals. He finished his prep net career with a 15-3 over-all record. His teammate, Shafer, also was a regional finalist, with a perfect 14-0 streak going in to the state competition.

Mitchell was selected as Inkster's Most Valuable Player. An all-Mid-Wayne Conference selection as well, Warren had a 13-3 record this season.

"He's aggressive on the courts and uses a lot of common sense," said Inkster coach George Thompson Jr. "His best features are his forehand and backhand," he said.

"We're going to miss him a lot next year," the Inkster coach added.

Miller, a 17-year-old senior who winds up three years with the Rocket varsity squad, captained this year's squad. Placing second in the league, Bob was chosen as a member of the Northwest Suburban Conference's all-league team.

As a junior, he reached the semi-finals but this year he was eliminated in the regional quarter-finals.

In a league which produces some of the best prep netmen in the state, Brooker emerged with a winning record. The Wayne High senior took on rivals from Dearborn, Edsel Ford and Ypsilanti and came away as the coaches' selection for one of the berths on the All-League team.

Rounding out the All-Area squad is veteran Romulus netman Kozarian who compiled a 16-1 over-all record en route to a Twin-Valley Conference championship and a second place finish at the regionals.

A senior with four years of tennis competition behind him, Andy is considered one of the best players ever to come out of the high school.

Not What It Appears

Attitude — be it in business, industry or competitive sports — is one of the key factors that determines the success or failure of a group, an individual or a project. And many a man and athlete has been left at the sidelines because of what management and manager call "wrong attitude."

Though "right attitude" in this column has never meant to bend one's convictions into being a "Yes, Man," it is, however, a feeling that one must contribute what he can for the good of the whole when called upon.

And when a sports writer hears from a coach that a young, promising athlete who has great potential has "the wrong attitude" it sort of disgusts him, to say the least.

"I asked the player to play in the outfield instead of the infield because we had a pretty good infield all lined up," said manager Bob Eisiminger who has taken over Wayne Post 111 American Legion's team. "Do you know what this kid replied?"

"He said, 'I can't judge a fly ball,' that's what he said," related Eisiminger.

The rookie manager pointed out that the player — who has starred on the high school diamonds — "has a I'll play anywhere I choose to and if you don't like it, I won't play at all."

The manager had no alternative but to ask the player to hand in his uniform.

For some reason my thoughts ran back to a couple of years ago when the Detroit Tigers, on the verge of winning the World Series, had asked then outfielder Mickey Stanley to fill in the gap at shortstop.

Manager Mayo Smith had the confidence in his player — and Mickey, as baseball history shows, came through.

New challenges — in sports, business and industry — are given to the person who shows an innate quality of leadership.

But, sometimes, the individual proves he isn't what he appears to be.

Stars Keep Shining

Do you remember Rick Clack?

Well, the former Garden City East basketball-baseball star was recently named to the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association's All-Conference baseball team.

Rick, picked as an All-Area cager and baseball player while at East, shifted from his second baseman's slot to the outfield and the move didn't hurt him none.

He batted over .400 this season for Olivet College where he is a sophomore majoring in business administration.

Rick's home now — but not to rest. He's playing on his father's team in the Livonia Parks and Recreation Class A League.

Dil Clack, Rick's father, apparently not only has baseball managerial skills, but journalistic ability as well. He's writing the stories about his team that appear somewhere on these sports pages.

And Duane Fox, the lanky pivotman from Inkster High School, appeared Sunday at Olympia Stadium in the annual East-West basketball game, sponsored by the Northwestern Alumni Association.

I promised the Vikings and coach George Thompson, Jr. that I would try to get over to see the game — but just couldn't make it. Too many interruptions on Sunday.

Duane, a 6-7 All-Stater, will be heading for Illinois State University to play for former Pershin High now ISU rookie coach, Will Robinson.

And you can bet Duane will play where and how the old master cage strategist, Will, wants him to play.

No one expected Anchor Block, the defending Romulus Adult Softball League champs, to pull up anchor after their first setback last week.

The champs have stayed close on the heels of undefeated frontrunners, Baum's Funeral, bouncing back for two wins to take over the second place slot with a 4-1 won-lost record. But it's been an upward climb all the way.

Baum's remained at the head of the league with an untarnished 6-0 record. They carded a 13-4 win over Alden Electric and registered a 11-3 rout of Gray's last week.

Meanwhile, Anchor Block nipped Cue Corners, 8-7 and came back to down Metro Radiator 10-5, needing rallies for both decisions.

In Baum's Thursday triumph of Alden Electric, winning pitcher Ivan Kinsella aided his cause with a perfect three for three at the plate. Teammate Mike Pratt chipped in three hits in four appearances.

Ted Marken clubbed a pair of circuit clouts while Steve Baker had a roundtripper.

Kinsella scattered seven hits in chalking up the win against Gray's. Gray's grabbed the lead momentarily when they put together a pair of hits and an error to score two runs in the first inning.

But Baum's replied with hitting power provided by Mike Pratt, who blasted his first homerun of the current campaign.

Anchor Block survived a close call with Cue Corners, emerging with a 19-hit assault and a 8-7 win. Don Skiff had four for four and Dick Rakotz cashed in on three hits in four tries.

The defending champ waited six innings before they could cool Metro Radiator who were deadlocked at five-all until the top of the seventh. Anchor scored five runs in the last inning to sew up their fourth decision in five starts.

Spartan Net Strategist Picked Top Area Coach

Cherry Hill has always been a serious contender for the Tri-River Conference tennis championship.

And one reason for the school's consistency as a potential tennis league champ is the dedication of coach Mike Hairabedian, who rounded out his seventh season as the Spartans' head tennis coach.

This year the Inkster located high school came within two victories of winning the title. They lost to Riverside whose veteran-packed squad went undefeated in the 1970 campaign.

The Spartans, with an 8-2 league record, were forced to settle for the runnerup slot.

They, however, had two league champs in Curt Peterson and Randy Deutschendorf.

Cherry Hill also finished the recently concluded campaign with a 12-2 record — the second best record in the 12 year history of the school.

For his accomplishments as a tennis mentor this season, the Associated Newspapers have chosen Hairabedian as the Coach of the Year.

A graduate of Central Michigan University where he earned his degree in Liberal Arts, Hairabedian also has a masters in history.

He has been teaching at Cherry Hill since the school doors opened 12 years ago.

U of M to Have Local Grid Look

There will be a local touch to the University of Michigan's 1970 football team. Among the 36 high school football players who have decided to attend Michigan, five are from the area.

Belleville's 6-5, 205-pound All-Area griddler, Rick Muschl, will be trying to find his way as a linebacker on coach Bo Schembechler's team.

Also eyeing a linebacker's berth is Bentley's Michael Day, an All-Suburban Six pick who will check in at 6-2, 200-pounds. He also hails from Livonia.

Another Livonia griddler who will be at U of M this season is Art Bediuk, an All-Catholic end who helped Dearborn Divine Child to two successive city titles.

Faust Makes It A Race For State Senate Seat

It will be a race in the 13th Senatorial District this year. Senator William Faust announced, Monday, that he will seek re-election.

Faust will face State Representative Vincent Pettipren in the coming August 4 primary.

Faust pledged that he will work for better education opportunities and an equitable tax reform which will be designed to ease the tax burden on property owners.

Faust stated that his main concern was with high school taxes, since his district is the highest taxed area in the state. "In this area," said Faust, "I feel that I have effectively served this district, and, frankly, I feel that I can do even more in the future."

Faust enumerated his Senate accomplishments as:

1-Successfully reorganizing the Nankin Mills School District into Wayne and Livonia.

2-Securing $400,000 to meet the indebtedness of the Nankin Mills School district at no direct cost to the residents of the area.

3-Securing an additional $150 per student in state aid for Wayne and Livonia, who received former Nankin Mills students. This came to a total of $600,000 for the districts.

4-Reorganizing the Sumpter School district into Huron, Van Buren, Airport and Lincoln school districts.

5-Securing an additional $150 per student in state aid for the receiving districts of Sumpter. This came to $250,000.

6-Arranging state loans for the operation of the financially strapped Inkster Public School system. This required a special state act.

7-Negotiating the only additional fund amendment in the current school aid bill; again repeating the $150 per student increment for reorganized districts. This came to $850,000.

Faust spoke of his proposals for school taxation in the future. He would ask that school taxes be collected on a statewide basis, alleviating the inequities under the present system.

As it is now, a city like Dearborn does not collect heavy property taxes, because of the large industrial tax base in the city provided by the Ford Motor Company, while a city like Inkster, is perennially in the red because of the low industrial tax base and despite a 17-mill property tax on residents, one of the highest in the state.

"I find this situation inequitable," said Faust, "Because probably 50% of the residents of my district work for Ford Motor Co. while only Dearborn profits from the taxes.

Taxes should be distributed equitably throughout the state."

Faust also proposes that personal property taxes for schools be abolished and an income tax be substituted. "This way," said Faust, "Citizens would pay their share only during their earning years.

"Our senior citizens would not face tax disaster during retirement, and our young people would not be prohibited from purchasing homes during their early income years."

Faust's main goal is equity of funds for all school systems, and equity of taxes for all citizens.

Another of Faust's concerns is the parochial question. He feels that parochial schools should submit to state controls if they are to receive state funds. "I don't think the parochial schools realize how extensive state controls would be if they received state aid," he said.

One requirement, stated Faust, would be that parochial schools would have to align themselves with certain school districts in return for state funds. In this plan, parochial schools would have to elect a board of education in each district, which would be under the control of the state.

One great compromise, that parochial schools would possibly have to make is not teaching religion during regular class hours.

An inequity Faust sees in the present forms of parochial proposed in the legislature is in the rules for obtaining aid.

Faust said he knows of certain private schools not in need of funds, which could qualify for money under the present form of the bill. He would rather see the aid go to schools which are in need of funds. To do this, the legislature would have to set rules for the qualifications of a school in need.

Faust also spoke about abortion reform.

Although he could not justify abortion in his own mind, Faust finds himself in the position of being in favor of legalized abortion, but in a

Esch Asks Commission To Deny PC Request

Congressman Marvin L. ESCH (R-Mich.) has told the Interstate Commerce Commission that Penn Central's request to eliminate long-distance in Michigan should be denied.

Said Esch, "What we need in Michigan is a modern rail passenger service to meet contemporary needs. We simply must not regress to the point of eliminating all passenger service at this crucial juncture in the rebuilding stage."

A statement by Esch was read for him by a representative at an ICC public hearing held in Ann Arbor on Thursday, June 4.

The hearing was one of a series held in the east and midwest by ICC on the Penn Central question.

Esch, who earlier called upon ICC to hold all the hearings necessary to permit the public to fully express its view, noted that the rail companies are not without problems. "Available seats on most trains are far from filled, creating a money pinch. And at times the railroads operate under somewhat troublesome regulations."

Nevertheless Esch opposed elimination of Penn Central long-distance service for several reasons.

"It is untimely," Esch said, "to permit a wholesale elimination of passenger service at this time when we are on the threshold of enacting legislation to relieve the financial pinch passenger operations may cause the general public in Michigan. Poor service is one important reason the number of passengers have declined in such dramatic numbers.

"My testimony here today should not in any way imply that I am for the continuation of the type of service we have been receiving. Far from it. That would not serve the needs of the public, nor for that railroads. The Senate passed a bill to establish a program to aid rail passenger service by an overwhelming majority."

"Both railroad labor and the industry are said to favor the measure. There is expected to be opposition to the form this proposal will take in the House but key members are confident that a bill will be passed by the House this year. With a financial program of aid poised in the offing, I should

GC Librarian In Select Study Group

Thomas K. Risto, Instructional Materials Supervisor of the Garden City Public Schools, has recently been selected to participate on participate in a national institute on "Improving Communication Skills of School Library Supervisors" by the School of Library Science at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

The institute, to be held July 20 - 31, 1970, is funded by the U.S. Office of Education under Title II - B of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

Directed by Dr. Helen D. Lloyd, Assistant Professor of Library Science at the University of Michigan, the institute will focus on the process of communication as the vital interface with all aspects of the school library supervisor's role. The staff will include specialists in group dynamics, speech, writing, and media design, in addition to several nationally-known school library supervisors and library educators.

The thirty participants, from eighteen states and Guam, are all supervisors or directors of school library programs. During the two-week institute they will be concerned with the following topics: (1) improving skills in writing, speaking, listening, and visualizing; (2) working productively with groups at all levels; (3) helping librarians to communicate more effectively with teachers and with students, especially those who are culturally different; (4) cooperating with public and other libraries within the community; and (5) implementing multi-media programs.

Risto resides at 23350 Meadow Park, Detroit.

Detroit Minister Completes Board

At a special meeting of the Intermediate Board of Education on June 2, Reverend Darneau V. Stewart was appointed to serve on the Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education.

Reverend Stewart fills the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Dr. Remus Robinson of the Detroit Board of Education.

Presently, Reverend Stewart is serving as Vice-President of the Detroit Board of Education. He has been a member since 1964.

Newly-appointed Intermediate board member is the Senior Pastor at People's Community Church, 8601 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan. He is also a member of the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance Advisory Board, the NAACP, and the Detroit Committee on Fair Housing Practices.

Reverend Stewart resides at 18480 Fairfield, Detroit, Michigan, with his wife, Christine, and their daughter, Sandra.

Intermediate Board President Carl Morris announced the appointment of Reverend Stewart would be for one year, since by law all vacancies on the Intermediate Board must be filled at a biennial election. The next Intermediate Board member election will be held in July, 1971.

Winners Bonus Due In Lansing

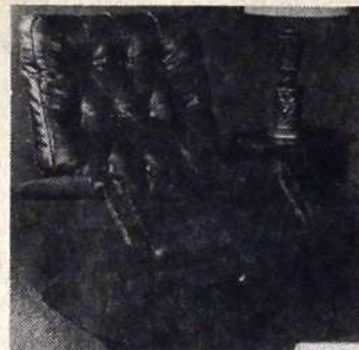

INKSTER — The new school board members elected Monday may have an extra year added to their terms, a Cherry Hill school district trustee said this week.

If a bill in Lansing restricting school board elections to odd years passes, candidates elected to four year terms Monday will not be up for re-election until 1975.

Louis D. Thompson, Cherry Hill Board member and president of the Metropolitan Association for Improved School Legislation said at a recent Cherry Hill meeting, the bill will pass.

He said it was intended as an effort to reduce bedsheet ballots in cities such as Detroit which hold school board and municipal elections at the same time.

More Laws To Protect Home Buyers Needed

We favor legislation by area cities and townships to extend as much protection as possible to the buyers of new homes in Western Wayne County.

These first local steps should be aimed at bringing to a halt the apparent practice of giving new residents as little information as possible about the nature of the area around a subdivision, the schools in the area, tax rates and the possible problems a new homeowner may face in the first months after purchase.

While we find no reason to make a blanket indictment of all home sales firms, enough complaints have been made by buyers to justify legal moves that will make all home sales conform to reasonable rules.

As future residents of Western Wayne County communities, new home buyers have a right to expect that local government will go to bat for them when they are most vulnerable — at the time when they know little about the area in which they will live.

There are thousands of rules contained in local building codes which are aimed at making new homes conform to standards that will maintain and improve area communities. It seems entirely proper to extend such safeguards to the buyers of new homes at the time they are considering purchasing a home.

We think wise businessmen in the field of home sales will welcome these rules, as a means of eliminating the poor practices that sometimes demean the entire home sales field.

Local rules, of course, may prove to be no substitute for statewide legislation. If state action becomes necessary, then this avenue, too, should be explored. But to begin with, local laws should do the job.

We urge every western Wayne County community to study the wisdom of laws to protect new home buyers.

The Stalling Must End

We hope the stalling of the Westland city paving program ends soon.

A court fight, described by the homeowners who brought the suit, as a battle to straighten out the small inequities involved in a large program, should not be dragged on too long.

There is a larger and more important inequity to be concerned about — the depriving of the citizens of Westland of safe and passable public roads. The 'greater good,' if we must use a tired term, dictates that the paving program be properly presented, but not completely stopped.

If there are small changes that can be made to improve the program, we would support them. But if the halting of the program is dragged out by petty and political motives, we will be strong in our criticism.

The growth of a city like Westland cannot be painless. And residents must be heard in court, if necessary. But progress must not be stopped without good reason — progress has already lagged too far behind.

Lansing Highlights

Milliken Reminisces About A Youth Revolt

By DON HOENSHELL

LANSING — They're more dignified now and slightly less militant but they dissented and made over the Michigan State Senate.

Gov. Milliken remembers well for he helped lead the charge with words and votes, not bricks and firebombs.

Now the Senate embraces its new members and takes them into its councils, consulting with the young as Milliken and others are now urging both sides to do.

Milliken sat behind his desk reminiscing this week during a timeout from the duties of running a state of 8 million people, now dismayed by its troubled campuses.

It was in 1961 that Milliken came to Lansing from Traverse City to sit in the Senate. The freshman crop that year was the new vintage of Republican thought.

There was Farrell C. Roberts, of Oakland County; Stanley C. Thayer, of Ann Arbor, John Fitzgerald, of Grand Ledge; Frederic C. Hilbert, of Wayland; John Stahlin, of Belding; Harry Litowich, of Benton Harbor, and Thomas F. Schweigert, of Petoskey.

Entrenched in the Senate leadership at the time were Carlton H. Morris, of Kalamazoo; Frank D. Beadle, of St. Clair; John P. Smeekens, of Coldwater; and Lynn O. Francis, of Midland.

The new members were held at arm's length, told of decisions in which they had not shared, and generally told how to vote by the older hands.

So they dissented.

They held luncheon meetings in the Jack Tar Hotel, planning strategy to try out later on the Senate floor. There were many disappointments.

Finally after a bitter floor fight, Fitzgerald was elected chairman of the prestigious Senate Business Committee. That broke the dam and the next year everyone had an office of leadership.

One by one they were tapped for greater things — by the electorate and by Gov. Romney, and later by Milliken, himself as governor.

When Milliken was appointed governor, the whole crew waited with him by the telephone waiting for the word from Washington that Romney had been confirmed as secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

It was a young, energetic and imaginative group — like the students Milliken is dealing with now to forestall campus disruptions.

Fitzgerald has trod the capitol corridors as a lad when his father, Frank D. Fitzgerald, was governor. All had prior political and governmental experience.

Now they are gone — except for Milliken and Schweigert, retiring as acting lieutenant governor.

Fitzgerald is now a State Appeals judge; Thayer is chairman of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission; Roberts is a circuit judge; Stahlin is now a State Appeals Court judge; Thayer is chairman of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission; Roberts is a circuit judge in Oakland County; Stahlin is a $1 a year man helping Milliken with political affairs; Hilbert is semi-retired and a member of the state tax appeal board. Litowich is retired.

Milliken's star is still rising but he maintains his philosophy from the time the moderates took over the Senate. He knew he would anger Republicans by parting company with Nixon on Cambodia, stating that the expansion of the Asian war had alienated the young.

"I knew I would do that, but it had to be said," Milliken said.

That's how some of the top figures in Michigan dissented and brought about change, without violence or lasting bitterness.

That they did it is evidence that peaceful and nonviolent dissent can move mountains.

And that is why the deeds of the young moderates will be remembered in Lansing.

The Death Of The Vacant Lot

By DICK McKNIGHT

Nobody ever wants an industry or an apartment complex next to his single-family home.

Any planning commissioner or zoning board member in any number of western Wayne County communities can testify to that fact. Nobody wants it in his backyard.

However, facts dictate that someone's backyard is going to border on property zoned for a shopping center, or a warehouse or an apartment building. The laws of physics tell us that various kinds of zoning will sometimes touch.

Unfortunately for many western Wayne County subdivision residents, the housing developments came as much as 15 years ahead of the commercial and industrial development of the area.

A home bordering on a vast open field in 1960 gave residents of S. Christine St. in Westland a feeling of being in the open country. Today, the open field is a K-mart store, built in 1968.

The land between the shopping center and the homes on Christine St. was once to be rezoned for apartments. Because of the objections of residents, the city council turned down the rezoning. Now a quick service-store shopping center stands on part of the property.

On the corner of Cherry Hill and Middlebelt Rds. in Inkster, a sandlot ball field once kept neighborhood youngsters entertained. But someone owned that land, and a few years ago stores were built on the property.

In Surrey Heights, a housing development at the border of Westland and Canton Township, residents now buying homes facing out on the rolling fields of Canton to the west may hope that they will eventually have houses as neighbors and not some other kind of development.

The point is: no one can count on the preservation of neighborhood quiet when he buys a home next to an open piece of land.

Land is scarce in western Wayne, believe it or not. Developers pay top dollar for land that wasn't even good for farming. Various kinds of development — homes, industry, businesses — will sprout wherever a bare piece of earth can be found.

Land fronting on major commercial streets, especially, is being snapped up fast. A resident who lives next to such a parcel of land can hope that the construction on the land will result in something nice, like a church, instead of a hamburger stand or gas station.

There are three things that can be done:

1) Residents can accept the fact that open lands, economically must be developed eventually, no matter how many homes border the vacant lots. A landowner cannot be stopped from using his land.

2) Home builders can be made to warn residents that there is no way to be sure that what will eventually be built on vacant land adjacent to a home. Buyers need this protection.

3) Local government can use wisdom and strength of position in making the impact of development less severe.

As western Wayne County becomes increasingly urban in character there is likely to be more, not less, moaning about development. But, like death and taxes, it will come. You can be sure of that.

Lift Up Your Head

Tough Job Ahead For Chief Young

By ROSEMARY WOLOCK

Anderson Young received plenty of congratulations this week when he was named Inkster's police chief. Perhaps condolences would have been more in line.

I don't mean to say that Chief Young is sad. Undoubtedly he feels that his new job is a welcome challenge. But I must say it's the kind of thing I would wish on my worst enemy.

Crime, traffic and public nuisances are constant topics at council meetings. I've often pondered that it would take a force several times larger than the one we have now to catch all the burglars and robbers, vandals, motorcyclists, dragsters, double-parkers and dogs that are complained of each week.

However, the greatest public outcry comes in the area of crime. We are asking the impossible of our policemen when we say "stop crime." Crime is apparently caused by decades of inadequate education, overcrowded and poor housing, unemployment and underemployment, and just plain innercity.

Crime will not be eradicated until these social ills are eliminated and until we set our values straight here in America. In the meantime we call upon the police to be that "thin blue line" between the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde sides of our society.

I don't envy a policeman's job. Sometimes it seems that, no matter what he does, it's wrong. Have you ever considered what it must be like answering a "family trouble" call? A policeman can never be right, and yet he takes a healthy risk of being shot at in the process of handling a routine call.

The police chief's job is even worse. It would seem that most of his job would be family trouble, too. He has to intervene in conflicts between citizens and policemen, public officials and policemen and policemen, besides administering his department.

He must also help determine how to spend the funds available for the police department.

In general the outcry has been for more policemen. What is also needed are better-trained policemen, better-paid policemen and better-supervised and administered policemen. Each one of these components costs money and must come from the city's rather limited resources.

I wonder if Chief Young's friends and supporters knew what they were doing to him when they supported him for the job. At any rate, along with my hearty congratulations, I must offer my sincere condolences to Inkster's new police chief.

A Star With Blisters

By DANN BARKUME

Five o'clock usually sees the harried breadwinner struggle to his car to battle the congested traffic in an effort to get home in time for dinner. The cares of the office are behind him for another day and he can look forward to spending a quiet evening at home with the wife and kids.

Almost. Almost because this is the breadwinner's night to play softball. He hurries home, changes clothes, grabs his glove and his spikes and hustles down to the field in order to get a few rounds of batting practice in before the game.

Since the bowling league finished up in April he hasn't done much in the line of physical exercise and he can't wait to get out there and hum the old pill around the infield.

Yup, it's the first game of the season and he can't wait to tie into that pitcher. He remembers the one he almost hit last summer and has gone over his swing in his mind a thousand times during the winter and he is sure he's got it down now.

So, with glove in one hand and liniment in the other he prepares for the first big game of the season.

Summer softball has become as American as steaks on the grill and the sport is growing with leaps and bounds even to the point of charging up those frustrated semi-pros who said they would never pick up a bat again.

They all show up to see if they can still make that quick move to their backhand side.

Anyone who has ever witnessed one of these so called athletic contests certainly will agree that pop isn't always the sharpest thing that ever laced on a pair of spikes.

But he tries.

Surprisingly enough, most men consider the aching muscles and blisters worth it because of the benefits they are receiving.

"A night out with the boys."

"Exercise!"

"A good time."

"I know I can still do it!"

The recreation softball program was set up to give those old time sandlotters something to do rather than talk about. It gets them out, they do something and they enjoy it.

Talent is not considered since all one has to do to play is show up with a glove. In no time they make Joe DiMaggio look like a little leaguer.

The sad part is that more don't get involved. We can still all learn a few things and sportsmanship could always use a little practice. Taking a bad call without questioning the umpire's heritage is also a worthwhile trait. Most of the self-acclaimed all stars will tell you that it helps a little thing called humility and develops personality.

The results are all benefits and the wife enjoys talking with the other women and finding out that hubby isn't as fantastic with that glove as he said he was.

Why not check one of the games out, or better yet, why not take part?

Councilman Objects; Points To Platform

To The Editor:

If your editorial of May 27 regarding the traffic congestion and re-design of the Plymouth-Middlebelt intersection was designed to get a reaction from a Livonia Councilman, then consider yourself successful.

My reaction, however, is somewhat resentful and for the following reasons:

1. Your idea or plan is not new but is, in fact, the same as expressed by me in my campaign for Council.

2. I can assure you that this candidate does not take his campaign promises lightly and will in due time move to effect the plan to improve the intersection.

3. As evidence of the sincerity of my position on campaign issues, I submit the following:

(a) I advocated the purchase of park land, particularly in the south side of town. I have proposed the designation of the land south of the Noble Library as a park site. The next move is up to the Parks and Recreation Commission.

(b) During the campaign I decried the extension of industrial zoning in Section 4. Last week I offered the resolution to deny such rezoning and it was passed by the Council.

(c) During the campaign I spoke out against careless strip zoning and site planning along our mile roads. Since the election, I have moved to deny the poor site plan of the Livonia Bank at Five Mile and Farmington, and have asked for a resolution to deny rezoning to C-2 of a parcel on Middlebelt south of Seven Mile Road.

(d) Along with other Council candidates, I expressed concern about parking problems on Plymouth Road, and you know that recent Council action has indicated a resolve to alleviate the problem between Merriman and Hubbard Roads.

Further, the City Council has approved by resolution a concurrence in a new Federal project called TOPICS (Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety) and, in fact, has moved to employ said program at Middlebelt and Joy Roads. Middlebelt and Plymouth is now under study under that program.

Livonia Vet Irked By Candidate Showing

To The Editor:

I would like to write this letter to that 'responsible' candidate who is running for office and using this day (Memorial Day) to further his personal ego by using the Livonia Memorial Day Parade to publicly campaign for office.

I don't know anything that is lower or more underhanded than to use the memorial thought and ideas to push a personal effort for one mere office.

When he was denied an official allowance to be in the parade by the parade marshal, Disabled American Veteran Commander, Ken Nowry, he tried to get past the marshal aides and get a position in the line of march, having no luck, he was determined to get in ahead of the last place unit, the fire engines, and this was stopped by another marshal aide, this 'responsible' candidate ignored the words of Cpl. Hewitt, Livonia Police, that he was not officially in the parade, boldly fell in behind the last police car and drove the length of the parade route sitting there like a cat that outsmarted everybody. Boy, has he got a lot of GUTS.

Well, sir, this veteran did not like it one bit along with a lot of other veterans and when the Democratic Committee heard about it, they said that they had no part in the show by this 'responsible' candidate.

Our Readers Write

God Knows Best; Residents Maintain

To The Editor:

In regards to the letter from Dann A. Dietrich:

Dear Dann, you are right, many people should read "The Environmental Handbook", and many people have read it.

Many of these people are educated people both in the professional world and without. You mentioned that the series of articles were written by scientists, churchmen, professors, and ecological experts. Scientists also teach things that are theory rather than fact, I'm sure you will agree.

Churchmen? If you will look around you will find many churchmen upholding beliefs that center around theory in many cases, rather than fact, for instance the traditionalists. I am sure you will agree with this.

Ecological experts? I'm sure you will agree they deal in possibilities rather than present circumstances.

And isn't it odd that you mentioned John W. Gardner, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. It would be interesting to know if he knows anything about the bill that is in the House of Hawaii (which is our pilot state) which reads as follows: Senate Bill No 1421-7-0, "Every Physician attending a woman resident of the state at the time she is giving birth to a baby, if the woman has two or more living children, perform such medical technique or operation as will render the woman sterile."

It is also odd that you mentioned Paul R. Ehrlich. I wonder if he would discuss the Project Zero Movement with you. Come on now Dann, do you think that we would dare to write about something that we know nothing about? Did you honestly think that Mr. De Bell would not come up with some kind of explanation for you.

Maybe when you have a little more experience behind you in dealing with people and debating you will realize that the explanation, "It is only symbolic" is what is commonly known as a "cop-out."

I hope we will see the day when some of our campus students wake up and realize that they are being used. So many of them are just waiting to latch onto something to keep them occupied. When they realize that our youth is the most susceptible to suggestion, then some of the campus problems will stop.

When you made the statement that these things are only symbolic you failed to explain the symbols. You see, that is where the danger lies. May be Mr. De Bell did not write the "Smokey The Bear Sutra" but I hardly think he would put his name on a publication he disagreed with.

You hit the nail on the head when you mentioned that there is a possibility of forcible limitation of children. This is the outcome for most of these movements. When you class the experts and imaginative thinkers together you are making a

Supporters Thanked By Candidate Pappas

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to the Progress with Pappas Committee for the campaign kick off dance which they sponsored in my behalf June 5.

The time and effort extended by the committee members in preparation for the dance resulted in a very entertaining evening, enjoyed by all who attended.

I would like to say a very warm "Thank You" to all those who attended the dance and helped to make it such a big success.

mistake. Experts rule, or should rule, on fact and imaginative thinkers can make any wild claim.

Sure we have water and air pollution but let's be realistic and get after the big polluters — the manufacturers, the airplane manufacturers, the ones who are dumping dangerous chemicals into our water. And above all keep in mind that if some of our scientists are right in claiming that our world is millions of years old, someone has had to keep an even balance.

Do you think that maybe God will handle the population problem? I think he can manage it without the publications and lawmakers who are interested in legalized murder — abortion and forced limitation of children.

Livonia Board Backs Head Start Volunteers

To The Editor:

At its meeting of June 1, the Livonia Board of Education acted to approve a request to establish a volunteer "Head Start" program for four weeks during the summer of 1970. The originators of this parents' volunteer activity are Mrs. Pat Duggan and Mrs. Lee Taylor, who have put together a large group of parental volunteers who will offer this cultural service to qualified preschoolers this summer.

In a time when funds are scarce and prices soaring, such volunteer work is very welcome and deeply appreciated. On behalf of the Board and staff of the Livonia Public Schools, I would like to acknowledge this generous offer and pledge our complete support.

Destroying District Won't Help Students

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received too late for publication last week.)

To The Editor:

I read with interest and much apprehension the open letter by Mrs. Joyce O'Hara to the Inkster District Taxpayers. Whereas Mrs. O'Hara represents one viewpoint, there are some of us concerned parents who prefer to help solve the financial problems of the Inkster School District through a positive approach.

Everyone realizes that the Inkster Schools need both the Bond Issue and the Four-Mill Renewal. On that point Mrs. O'Hara and I are in perfect agreement. However, since the interest of 5,000 children is involved, why should we try to solve our district's financial problems by destroying our schools?

Many of us are not ashamed to be identified with the Inkster School District, so we choose to work in the PTA, with the school administration and the board of education to solve our problems. (All school districts have problems, financial and others.)

If Mrs. O'Hara and others succeed in destroying the Inkster Schools as proposed in the open letter, the State of Michigan will not step in and pour additional funds into the Inkster School District.

Instead the school district would be partitioned into at least four parcels and our neighboring school districts who are presently experiencing similar financial troubles would be forced to annex a portion of our district, thus adding to their financial burden. This would be indeed unfair to our neighbors.

(One reason the State Board of Education voted five to one against de-annexation of a portion of the Inkster School District was that the Cherry Hill Board of Education made it crystal clear that they could not afford an additional burden.)

As the mother of five children who attend the Inkster Schools, let me recommend a different approach. Vote yes on both propositions: the Bond Issue and the Four-Mill Renewal. When the State of Michigan proposes a consolidation plan which would help our children, then let all of us support it.

We would like to extend our thanks to the merchants of Garden City who donated prizes for our drawing on May 27. All winners have been notified. The drawing was held to raise money for summer camp.

A special thanks goes to the Knights of Columbus of Garden City who donated a check to help pay for the insurance needed to run our bus this year.

There still, however, is an urgent need for more money to cover the full costs. The bus is available to all scouts in Garden City by contacting Mr. Zack, scoutmaster, or Bob Rogers at 421-4003.

ALL THE TOOLS YOU NEED — The tools shown above will take care of those small plumbing repair jobs that keep your plumbing system operating at peak efficiency and help you avoid major repair jobs. They include a plunger, wrench, screwdriver and spring-type "snake" of steel with an adjustable handle.

Plumbing Cures Are Easy

Small Repair Jobs Prevent Costly Damage

Small plumbing repair jobs around the house aren't difficult. There are several you should know how to take care of yourself, on emergency notice.

You should be able to fix a dripping faucet, for example. Or open a clogged drain. Or repair a toilet tank that overflows or won't stop running. Or thaw out a frozen pipe so that your water supply isn't interrupted for too long a time.

Often a simple, early repair will let you avoid a major repair job or a costly replacement later on. The only cost will be for tools you should own anyway — less than a professional plumber would charge you for a day's work. You avoid the inconvenience of waiting until the plumber can get around to your little job.

When you have lined up the few tools pictured at the right, follow the step-by-step pictures on pages that follow to get a successful repair job. You'll be able to handle that leaky faucet, clogged drain, or malfunctioning toilet tank.

Changing or adding to the home's basic plumbing system certainly is not impossible for the handyman. The system is really very simple, though it looks complex. It involves two systems, a fresh-water supply system with hot and cold water and a waste-disposal system.

Of course, any basic changes you make will have to conform with your local plumbing code. In some communities, such work must be done by a master plumber.

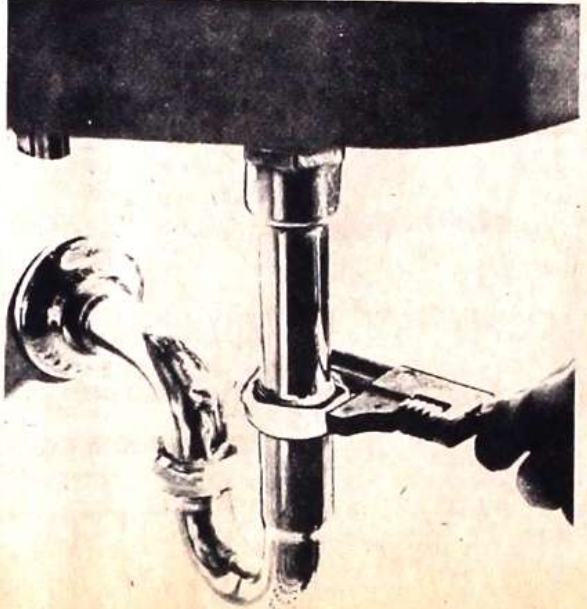

So until you have had considerable experience in this field, you'll be wise to confine your plumbing efforts to the very simple repair jobs.

If you have a gas distribution system in your home, you'll find it is very similar to your plumbing system. But don't attempt to repair it yourself. If the odor of the escaping gas reveals a leak, call a serviceman at once. Handyman repair efforts lead to disaster all too often.

Following this section on plumbing repairs is a discussion of adequate electrical wiring for your home. There are also pointers for making simple repairs on wiring and appliances. Wiring like plumbing, must conform to strict codes.

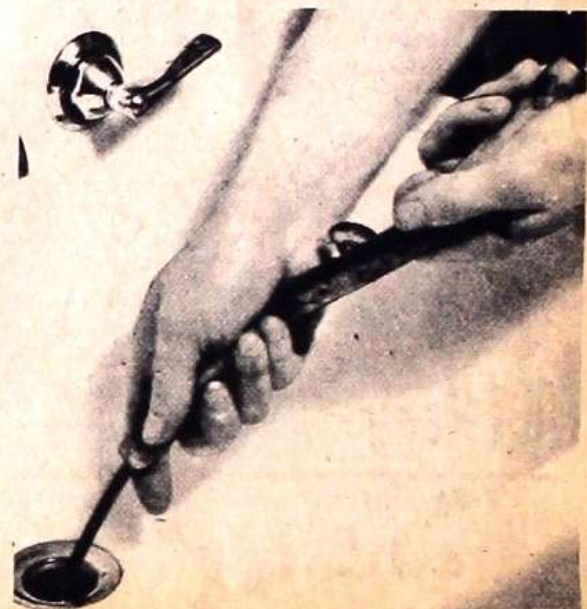

DON'T GIVE UP TOO SOON — Put your plunger in place over the drain, partly fill the bowl with water and work the plunger — with a thick coating of petroleum jelly along the flat bottom edge — up and down vigorously. To get full pressure on the clog, plug the overflow outlet with a damp cloth. Be sure the drain stop has been removed.

CLEANING TRAPS — If neither plunger nor drain cleaner does the job, look for a cleanout plug at bottom of U-trap. Unscrew it if one is there. If not, take off entire trap, using adhesive tape to prevent marring of chrome by wrench. Place bucket beneath to catch water. Either probe trap with piece of wire or remove pipe to wash trap thoroughly. New rubber gaskets should be used to regain watertight seal.

DRAIN CLEANER — If the plunger doesn't remove the clog, siphon any remaining water from the bowl and try a commercial drain cleaner. Use cleaner sparingly, especially if you have copper pipes, and follow directions. Don't allow cleaner to touch any porcelain or enameled surface. Let mixture work several hours or overnight.

DRAIN AUGER — If you have a drain auger with an adjustable crank-type handle, you can work through the sink opening in removing a clog. The coiled steel spring, known to plumbers as a "snake," is easy to work past the trap and down the drainpipe as you crank the handle, gradually moving it up the spring. A 20-foot auger is relatively inexpensive and will either drill through or catch most pipe clogs.

Senator Praises Bill To Aid Local College

State Senator Arthur Cartwright (D-Detroit) today hailed the passage by the Senate of an appropriation of over $2.7 million in state aid for the new Wayne Community College.

The appropriation was included in Senate Bill 1179, the state Higher Education Appropriations Bill for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

"This appropriation represents a major victory for all of the people of the Detroit metropolitan area," Cartwright asserted. "Now that the college is in full operation, I have little doubt that those who have opposed it will come to appreciate its value just as the people of many other areas in this state which have their own institutions of higher learning."

Millage votes to establish the college twice failed, but the college began operations last year on the basis of grants from a number of organizations and limited assistance from the state.

"The Detroit area was far and away the largest in the state without a local college for vocational, occupational and technical training," Cartwright noted, "before the establishment of Wayne Community College.

"I am certain that this college, when it has expanded to meet the tremendous need which exists in Wayne County for training and education of this type, will be recognized as one of Michigan's most valuable resources.

"Students, concerned parents, community-minded citizens and legislators are to be praised, not only for their faith in this project, but for the plain hard work which has made this appropriation possible."

Bowles Named Head Of Symphony Campaign

Harry G. Bowles, senior vice president of finance of Burroughs Corporation, will head the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 1970 Maintenance Fund Campaign to raise $1-million in support of the orchestra.

Bowles is a member of the board both at Burroughs and the symphony and has been chairman of the symphony's financial policy committee since 1968.

The symphony Maintenance Fund Campaign is conducted as an annual fund-raising drive to help close the gap between the orchestra's earned income and expense for the concurrent year. Ticket sales account for far less than half the revenue needed to meet expenses. Even if every concert were a complete sell-out, income would only handle about fifty per cent of the orchestra's expenses.

All major U.S. orchestras have similar support campaigns.

Last year the Detroit Symphony received $740,000 in its maintenance campaign. The 1970 goal of $1-million is the amount necessary to sustain the orchestra's current levels of operation and permit it to move ahead with its development programs.

To achieve the 1970 goal, the campaign under Bowles' direction will include some new approaches designed to broaden the symphony's support base. Gifts from individuals, companies, and foundations will be sought, as always, and in addition, new categories of giving and contributors' benefits have been established to make membership more attractive and accessible to a larger segment of the community.

the Detroit Symphony; and Ralph T. McElvenny (1965) president of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

Baptist Churches Hold Service

The first Summer Community Vesper Service, sponsored by area Baptist Churches, will be held Sunday, June 21 at Bethany Baptist Church in Detroit, featuring two outstanding youth choral groups.

The service starts at 7 p.m. and features the 68-member DelSanto Youth Choir from Calvary Baptist Church in Detroit, and the Choral Group from Nankin Mills Baptist Church of Westland.

The eight young people from Nankin Mills include: Jeri, Randy and Roger Collins; Kathie Crawford; Jan Forbes; Denise and Duane La Prairie; and Dawn Morrison. James Hawkins is narrator for the "Creation".

Both of these musical groups have been extremely well received in previous concert performances.

This is the first service in the series of the 14th season of combined Sunday evening services, cooperatively sponsored by Bethany Baptist Church of Detroit, First Baptist Church of Dearborn, Cherry Hill Baptist Church of Dearborn Heights, and Calvary Baptist Church of Dearborn.

Bethany Baptist Church is located at 15122 West Chicago, Detroit, between Coyle and Sussex, just east of Greenfield Road, with plenty of free parking available nearby. Refreshments will be served after the service.

'Mame' Brings Out Best Despite Rough Spots

By HOWARD ALLEN
Panax Amusement Critic

A big and exciting "Mame" is rousing audiences at the Fisher these days and Patrice Munsel doing her thing as Patrick Dennis' favorite aunt is most assuredly a thing worth doing.

While bus and truck companies don't often play the Fisher which usually insists on the more complex national companies, there should be no quarrels with the current restaging. Director John Bowab and choreographer Diana Baffa keep an amazing pace.

Miss Munsel comes from a long line of Broadway powerhouses like Barbara Streisand and La Merm — you'd never attempt to go to sleep on her. Training to hit the far balconies of the Met can produce a voice like dynamite.

There are a few ragged edges in the company, including a couple of bad mis-casts — Patrick's Connecticut girl friend has an accent you won't believe after you've heard it — but the major roles, Sandy Sprung as Mame's actress friend, Donna Curtis as her pregnant secretary and Stephen Gustafson as her young ward, offer able support.

George Kennedy is a businessman who is told that he will die without a risky brain operation, who decides to protect his family's future by framing himself for a year-old kidnap-murder.

He falsifies evidence and arranges matters so his wife, Anne Jackson, is secretly in line to collect a hefty reward on him, is arrested, tried and convicted. Then he collapses, is operated on successfully and is faced with the problem of clearing himself of the murder, since he now wants to live. And so he escapes from the hospital and, dodging police, seeks to unravel the puzzle, aided only by his lawyer, Eli Wallach.

Incidentally do the designers pay any attention to the calendar? Were skirts that low in 1939? And wasn't that typewriter a bit too modern for the period? And, two years before Pearl Harbor, who decorated in Japanese modern?

"Zigzag" is a superior thriller which, if it doesn't always make itself completely clear, doesn't fail to hold

The ultimate solution comes only as an after thought, and, as sometimes happens with films of this sort, one suspects he'd never have solved it without the aid of a good script-writer. But the pace never flags. "Zigzag" is a diverting evening.

But not so "One More Time," the Sammy Davis, Jr. — Peter Lawford sequel to "Salt and Pepper" which is probably the best cinematic proof ever offered of why most sequels should never have been made.

The original, which cast the duo as night club owners mixed up in international espionage, was brilliantly funny and furiously fast in the mood of the old

Crosby-Hope road pictures. The sequel suffers under a script which lacks sufficient plot for a 30 minute short and Jerry Lewis' direction.

Meadow Brook Announces 70-71 Season Schedule

Meadow Brook Theatre's Artistic Director John Fernald today announced the eight plays that will be performed during the 1970-71 season at Oakland University and at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Woods and Dr. Audley M. Grossman, Executive Director of the Detroit City Theatre Association, jointly announced that each of Meadow Brook's plays will be performed at the Art Institute for the second consecutive season.

The Meadow Brook Theatre will open its fifth season at Oakland University on Thursday, October 8 with the World Premiere of Requiem, a new play by American playwright Kevin O'Morrison.

Requiem by Kevin O'Morrison opens Oct. 8 at Oakland and re-opens Oct. 28 at Art Institute.

The Rainmaker by Richard Nash Opens Nov. 5 at Oakland and re-opens Nov. 25 at Art Institute.

Lions Club Readies First Auction Sale

The Canton Lions Club is getting ready for its first Auction sale to be held at noon June 13.

They have some very interesting items, such as a sail boat, farm machinery, household appliances, pianos, furniture, and lawn and garden tools.

All proceeds will go to help the blind or some other community project. So far this year donations of $500 to Leader Dog of Rochester, $200 to Penickton Center of Taylor, $100 to Welcome Home for the Blind in Grand Rapids, have been made.

New officers for the coming year will be installed June 27 at a banquet at Vigo's in Ypsilanti.

LOVE IT — This typical group of Jaguar lovers are just a few of the aficionados of autodom expected for the Jaguar Concours d'Elegance Sunday at the Botsford Inn in Farmington.

Jaguar Owners Convention Sunday Is A Real Love-In

The Botsford Inn in Farmington will soon be the site of one of America's most unnoticed love affairs.

The liaison is planned for scores of Jaguar owners and their beloved and polished autos Sunday, June 14. The owners and their wives will spend the weekend comparing notes about the autos and will climax the confab with a judging on Sunday.

The gathering is the annual Concours d'Elegance of the Jaguar Affiliates Group of Michigan. The only condition for joining is the ownership of a Jaguar, no matter what condition the auto is in.

Winning autos, of course, are spit-polished and delicately tuned, so as to catch the discerning judge's eye. So much as a tiny blemish on a car's finish has been known to keep it from the final judging.

When the Jaguars are brought up for judging on Sunday, they will be taken to a judging area where an impartial panel of three judges will score the exterior, interior and boot and engine of each car.

The competition is designed for Jaguars which are used daily, and so points are given for mileage. White glove inspections of frames and running gears are out this year.

Emphasis is placed, the judges say, on "purity" as well as overall appearance. "Purity" is defined as how closely the car approximates the original showroom condition.

Westlander Bill Borrusch, an active member of the J.A.G. organization, says the annual event is the highlight of each year's Jaguar lovers activity.

Borrusch will be at the Concours d'Elegance this year, despite the fact that his car is temporarily under the weather.

What better way to spend a weekend than sitting on a corner watching all the Jaguars go by.

45 Contestants Vying For Miss Michigan

Beautiful? Of course! But the new Miss Michigan to be selected at Muskegon Saturday night, June 20, will be much more than that.

She'll have to be, according to Jack Bushong, longtime executive director of the Pageant.

"Besides being a beautiful girl, the Miss Michigan selected by our judges from among the 45 contestants will also have poise, talent, intelligence, charm and dignity," the veteran Pageant director said. "And if past pageants serve as a barometer, she'll be extremely well qualified in each of those categories."

The 45 contestants, some of whom are still being selected in local preliminary pageants, include girls from throughout the state. Michigan's Upper Peninsula will send six contestants and three are the product of college-sponsored preliminaries.

And the judges for this year's Pageant are experienced in picking a winner. Traditionally, those judges who select the state Pageant winner who eventually becomes Miss America are asked back for the next year's competition.

Last year, Pamela Ann Eldred, who entered the Miss Michigan Pageant as Miss Detroit, went on to Atlantic City in August and became Miss America. The five judges who selected Pam are returning to try to repeat their performance.

Miss America, too, will be on hand. Pam Eldred will participate in Pageant activities with which she should be quite familiar.

Returning also to take part in her last official performance will be Sandra Gillespie, of Hastings, the reigning Miss Michigan. Sandy, who succeeded Pam to the Miss Michigan throne, will relinquish her crown Saturday night.

Among the featured activities of Pageant Week in Muskegon are: the poolside news conference Monday afternoon (15), the parade Wednesday evening (June 17), the nights of preliminary competition Thursday and Friday (June 18 and June 19), the finals Saturday night (June 20), and the awards brunch Sunday (June 21).

Capitol Has Appeal When You're Sixth Grader

LANSING — The Michigan State Senate didn't exactly overwhelm 62 sixth grade students from Titus School in Westland who toured the Capitol last week.

"It was nice," a small blonde student said after viewing the senate in session.

"It was different from what I expected," said a sixth grade boy.

"How was it different?"

"I don't know ... just different."

"Did you expect more action?"

"Yeah."

The senate chairman apologized to students in the gallery for the senate's lack of action before adjourning the session 25 minutes after it had begun.

"The senators are working hard in committees today."

They have to hear a lot of people who are for and against certain bills and they can't take much time out to be on the floor today."

Big deal.

"Let's go," pleaded a non-political youth.

The senate spent most of its time announcing upcoming committee meetings.

The House of Representatives was another story. Congressmen were heatedly debating whether suburbanites who work in Detroit should be taxed by the city. Jackie Vaughn III from Detroit spoke in favor of the bill. Several suburban representatives including Mrs. Joyce Symons from Allen Park, who seemed to be the most outspoken, opposed the tax.

When the tour guide called for the Titus group to move on to see Governor Milliken's moon dust in the middle of her speech, one of Peter Gillis's students pulled on his coat sleeve.

"But the lady hasn't finished talking," she protested.

Most students said they didn't know what the representatives were talking about but they enjoyed the view from the gallery.

One boy named Brian followed the gist of the debate to a point and was ready to side with the big city.

"If the people in Detroit have to pay taxes then the people in Westland should pay taxes too," he reasoned.

The students came to the Capitol from Michigan State University where they toured the art museum, planetarium, dorms and football field and ate lunch at the cafeteria.

Teachers said their students seemed more impressed with the campus than with the Capitol.

"Many of their parents will encourage them to go on to college and we thought it would be a good idea to show them what a campus looks like," said Gillis.

They were greeted at the Capitol by Jim Shinnars, an MSU student and part time tour guide and by representative Vincent Petitpren.

Shinnars told them about the unique glass floor in the dome of the building (which several students promptly stomped on to see if it would break).

Petitpren welcomed them to the "large old Capitol", informed them he was against the Detroit tax on suburbanites and told them that pollution was everybody's responsibility.

The children were then herded through the building, stopping at points of interest and keeping to the right to avoid trampling other school groups and preoccupied senators.

The tour ended with a mad dash to the basement concession stand which aroused even more enthusiasm than the glass floor.

Sixth grade teachers Peter Gillis and Sue Menuck and the six chaperoning mothers rated the group as well behaved. Mothers who made the trip were: Mrs. Helen Lipinski, Mrs. Arlene Zylka, Mrs. Sharon Barrons, Mrs. June Frantjeskas, Mrs. Jean Alen and Mrs. Carol Ferrai.

From the students' point of view the only problem with the trip was that the two hour bus ride "was boring."

POLLUTION IS EVERYONE'S RESPONSIBILITY -- Representative Vincent Petitpren told a group of Titus School sixth graders who visited the State Capitol last week. The trip supplemented their study of governments. They also visited Michigan State University.

Faust Enters Race For Senate Re-election different form than proposed to the legislature originally.

"Rather than changing the criminal codes to permit abortion," said Faust, "I would rather change the medical practices act to permit abortion under a doctor's license. Should we change the criminal codes, it would be possible for an unskilled person to perform an abortion legally."

Through some research on his own, Faust found that abortion, touted as a boon to the poor who cannot afford children, would not be so cheap to provide for the poor people's needs.

As it stands now, a doctor's malpractice insurance premiums run about $2500. One doctor estimated that one person a month would come to him for abortions if they were legalized.

Checking with an insurance firm, Faust found that malpractice insurance would jump another $2500 if abortion were legalized. This would be a cost of $200 passed on the patient even before the doctor charges for services. Faust finds this hardly conducive to helping the poor alleviate the burden of unwanted children.

Faust also cites weaknesses in a case of father's or husband's rights. What if the woman would desire an abortion without the consent of her husband? The wrong decision on this case would lead to a costly suit to doctors, according to the Senator.

Finally, Faust stated that he wanted to look into the question of campus disorders. Should schools be punished if a campus disorder happens by reducing state funds?

Faust feels that students have a right to dissent, but that faculty members should not be permitted to dissent and receive pay while taking part in the demonstrations.

Faust cited an example at Columbia, considered the epitome of dissent in modern society, where some students were fined $500 for taking part in demonstrations, while faculty members took part in the demonstrations while still receiving full pay.

Faust feels that while students have a right to dissent, other students have the right to be able to attend classes. Should teachers cancel classes for reasons of dissent? Faust feels they should be penalized in the paycheck.

Faust stated that he intends to run on his record, and his promises, and would not like to see an alleged "bloodbath" in the coming campaign.

Bible School

All children in kindergarten through sixth grade are invited to attend the Vacation Bible School at the St. Michael Lutheran Church, located at 3003 Hannan Rd. at Glenwood.

convenient class schedules to its students than if the entire program was concentrated at one site. Officials say this approach will be continued.

They also hope to beef up educational training to provide students "skills that bring financial stability and a sense of independence," but to accomplish this goal approval is needed from county voters Aug. 4 on a proposed one-mill tax levy. Without passage of this measure, the new college's 1970-71 budget faces reduction of almost 50 per cent.

A Citizens Advisory Committee, aided by many volunteers, is spearheading the campaign to bring about passage of the millage.

Two Area Students Are Phi Beta Kappa

Eighty-four seniors and 22 juniors at Wayne State University were initiated into Phi Beta Kappa on Monday, June 8. The public initiation ceremony in Wayne's Community Arts Auditorium was followed by a dinner in the University Center Ballroom.

The nationally known Phi Beta Kappa key is awarded annually to liberal arts students who maintain an excellent academic record.

Dr. Jules N. Masserman, professor of psychiatry and neurology at Northwestern University, was elected an honorary member of the society and delivered the address at the dinner.

The new Phi Beta Kappa initiates included James E. Engle, 28588 Hazelwood, Inkster, a senior in Mathematics, Regional J. Nizol, 7862 Terri Drive Westland, a senior in German.
